What made you choose an apprenticeship with EMCOR UK?

When I finished school, I didn't want to do A Levels and following in my step-dad's profession as an electrician, I decided to apply for the electrical apprenticeship at EMCOR UK as I knew I would get more hands on experience. I had been told how good the apprenticeship programme was at EMCOR UK.

Would you recommend EMCOR UK to other apprentices and why?

I would recommend EMCOR UK to other apprentices as it's a massive company, and you have the opportunity to move around. There are also progression opportunities and great support.

What is a typical day like for you as an apprentice at EMCOR UK? Include roles and responsibilities etc

A typical day for me at EMCOR UK varies, I get to work with my supervisor and mentor where we have a list of various jobs to complete on site. Some jobs I complete on my own such as fixing switches, others I work with the experienced team members to solve any major issues.

What is the best thing about being an apprentice?

The support that you get all the way through. I also had a good mentor that taught me a lot. You also get paid to learn which is a great bonus.

I would recommend EMCOR UK to other apprentices as it's a massive company, and you have the opportunity to move around. 🗨️
